VANCOUVER, March 7 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- CounterPath Solutions, Inc. (BULLETIN BOARD: CTPS) , a leader in Voice over IP (VoIP) communications software and ADTRAN(R), Inc. a leading supplier of IP-based networking solutions have partnered in the development of a IP softphone for use with ADTRAN's newly announced NetVanta(R) 7100 IP PBX-switch-router. This new co- branded IP softphone is designed to extend the convenience and cost savings of VoIP to mobile, home and branch office users by providing the ability to use PCs or laptops as a phone via an easy to use, feature rich Graphical User Interface (GUI).

"ADTRAN chose to partner with CounterPath for a softphone solution because they are a recognized leader in VoIP communications software," stated Tim Saunders, vice president of product management, ADTRAN Enterprise Networks division. "The co-branded ADTRAN/CounterPath softphone offers NetVanta 7100 customers robust functionality, security, and an intuitive easy-to-use interface, making it easy for mobile or remote workers to function just as if they were in their offices."

"Our goal is to ensure the success of our partners through a standards- based softphone delivering the best user experience possible," said Donovan Jones, vice president sales and marketing of CounterPath. "We're delighted to have been selected by ADTRAN to provide a solution that drives additional value into their Voice over IP offering."

The co-branded ADTRAN/CounterPath IP Softphone will be available to NetVanta 7100 customers beginning in March, 2006. A five-license user pack will has a list price of $500.
