AAR Corp. expects to report fiscal first-quarter earnings of 20 cents a share -- higher than the 15 to 18 cents Wall Street is expecting -- Ira A. Eichner, chairman and chief executive officer, said in an interview. He said the company estimates sales for the quarter ended Aug. 31 were $110 million, up from $97 million a year earlier. Operating income, he said, was $6.9 million, compared with $5.3 million. Net for the recently ended quarter was $3.3 million, he added, against $2.1 million, or 13 cents a share. AAR's diverse businesses include overhauling jet-engine parts, landing gear and instruments for commercial and military aviation customers. Its shares closed Friday at $19, up $2, or 12%, in New York Stock Exchange composite trading.
