

The Boston Globe

Business
Adtran Inc.

74 words
5 July 2009
The Boston Globe
BSTNGB
G.5
English

© 2009 New York Times Company. Provided by ProQuest Information and Learning. All Rights Reserved.

Adtran, an Alabama-based communications equipment maker, rose, after it was upgraded by a Citi Investment Research analyst. Jim Suva raised his rating to "buy" from "neutral," saying it is set to benefit from the US government's $7.2 billion program to increase broadband's reach. A quarter of Adtran's sales go to smaller phone companies that may benefit from the program. He set a target price of $27.

Document BSTNGB0020090705e5750001v

Search Summary

Text
Date	All Dates
Source	Newspapers: All
Author	All Authors
Company	Adtran Inc
Subject	All Subjects
Industry	All Industries
Region	United States
Language	English
Results Found	213
Timestamp	17 July 2018 17:22